

College: Getting in and Staying in

July 13, 2011, from 10:45 a.m. – 11:45 a.m

To find additional information about Virginia's Community Colleges, visit the VCCS website:

<https://www.vccs.edu/>

The VCCS is in the process of redesigning developmental education system-wide to help prepare students who are not yet college ready in math or English. Visit the VCCS Developmental Education Website for updates: <http://www.vccs.edu/deved>

This website contains links and PDFs of developmental education resources including:

The Turning Point: Developmental Education in Virginia's Community Colleges

The Critical Point: Redesigning Developmental Mathematical Education in Virginia's Community Colleges

Student Success Snapshots (bimonthly reports showing VCCS state-wide data on student success)

Two of today's panelists have been participating in the redesign. If you would like additional information, please email Dr. Kimberly Bovee kbovee@tcc.edu about the developmental English redesign and Jane Serbousek jserbousek@nvcc.edu about the developmental math redesign.

You can also email the VCCS developmental education address deved@vccs.edu with questions.
